

Week 2 GJ - Saaif Ahmed

Mon (9/21/20):

I am grateful that we finally got a new couch in our apartment. We have had a couch left over from the previous tenant and the couch was nasty. It had rodent feces on the couch and it was just not fun. We got it removed and replaced. Now we have enough sitting area for all the members in the apartment.

Tue (9/22/20):

I am grateful for that the new setup that my suitemates and I came up with. Building upon yesterday's events we added another couch into the mix making 3 couches in our living space. We made our own make shift sectional.

Wed (9/23/20):

I am grateful for curry. Curry reminds me of home every time I have it. I am trying my best to recreate my mom's recipe but I always manage to mess up something each time. I am grateful that my dad sent a whole bunch of spices so that I at least have a shot at making it.

Thurs (9/24/20):

I am grateful for Professor Radke. His teaching of Eprob is really good and I can't ask for a better professor. I thought I would never find a teacher who is as much of a nerd as an RPI student but he is and organizing the questions around that nerd stuff is great for keeping attention.

Fri (9/25/20):

I am happy that today is Friday. This week was really tough and next is looking to be even worse but I have this break now and I am going to savor it. My friend just got a new game in the mail and we are going to play it and recover.
